

HARILAOS VASILAKOS

The First Marathon Race Winner in History

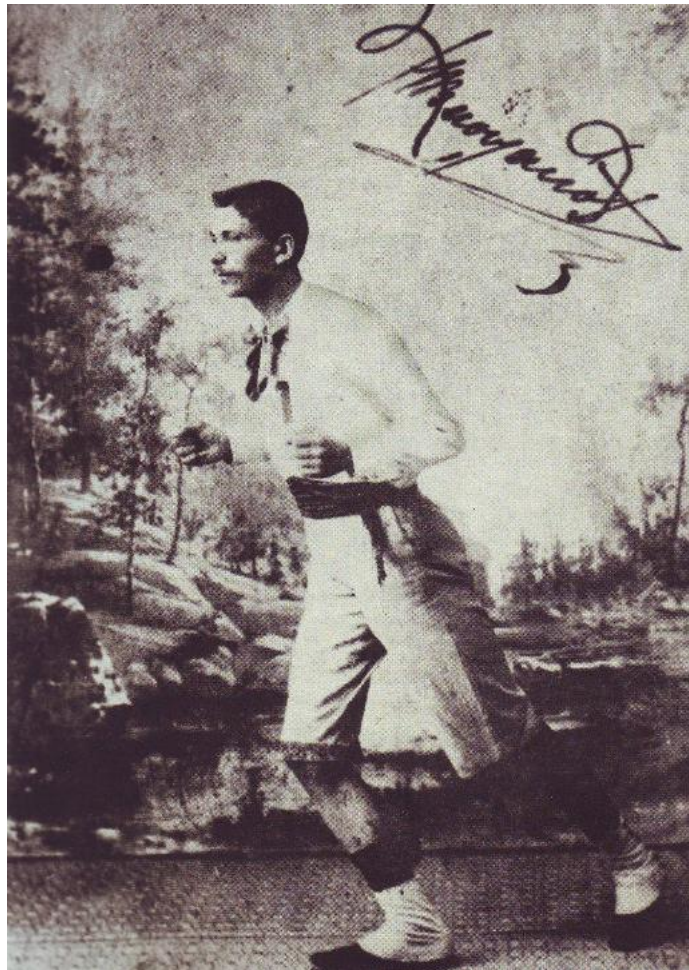

1875 – 1964

Harilaos Vasilakos, from Mani, was born in Piraeus in 1875. At a young age he lost his father in an accident and so was raised by his mother and his uncle. As a child he loved sports and enjoyed running.

He was tall and had high stamina in long distance running. This was due to his lungs being larger than those of an average person, something that was later medically assessed.

In 1896 he was a Law student in the University of Athens, while working at the Athens Court of First Instance and also preparing for the Marathon Race of the First Olympic Games as a member of the Panellinios G.S.

He listed a series of remarkable sporting successes.
